

BIRCH CREEK

REWILDING ECO-RESORT

Welcome To Birch Creek, Idaho

52 Minutes from Idaho Falls Airport

Laying at the base of the Continental Divide and the Snake River Plain

97% of Birch Creek Valley is grassland, prairies, and forests, allowing for exclusivity in development

Home to 790 people, one of the least populated of Idaho's 44 counties

Birch Creek is the “rural” portion of Clark County Idaho, home to 8 people, 1 per 78 sq.miles

Yellowstone to Central Idaho Wilderness Areas and Wildlife Corridors

Area Map

Birch Creek Valley and surrounding Areas

1. Yellowstone National Park at the eastern edge of the map.
2. Yellowstone to Central Idaho Wilderness Areas.
3. Public Lands wildlife Corridor.
4. Central Idaho Wilderness areas.

The Next Frontier Is Birch Creek Valley, Idaho

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

REAL ESTATE | LUXURY HOMES

This Idaho Town Could Become the Next Jackson Hole—but Don't Tell Locals That

Driggs is undergoing a 'remarkable transformation,' thanks in part to the potential expansion of Grand Targhee Resort. But some are worried it will lose its small-town feel, just like other major ski destinations have over the years

1,383 Acres nestled between lush grazing lands with mountain vistas adjacent to 70,000 acres of Rewilding landscapes

Green Lodging Opportunities

- Real Estate Development
- Eco-Tourism
- Hospitality
- Recreational Sports
- Health & Wellness Programming
- Retreats
- Educational Programs
- Horse Therapies & Programming
- Energy Resource Partnerships
- Carbon mitigation programs
- Environmental Research

* 97% of Birch Creek Valley is open grassland, prairies and forests, allowing for exclusivity in Development

Rewild Your Imagination

Escape & Reconnect

BIRCH CREEK
REWILDING ECO-RESORT

The Rewilding Institute:
1. Education
2. Seminars
3. Conferences

Health & Wellness

Corporate Partnership Opportunity

Shoshone Bannock Tribes of the Fort Hall Reservation

Offerings:

1. Traditional ecological knowledge
2. Hospitality
3. Agricultural Education
4. Wellness Therapies

BIRCH CREEK

REWILDING ECO-RESORT

To learn more about Birch Creek
Contact: Manda@rewildingamericanow.org